INGREDIENTS

- 750g boneless skinless chicken thighs
- 2 leeks, finely sliced
- 1 onion, finely sliced
- 400g bacon, finely sliced
- 568ml whole milk
- 25g tarragon, chopped
- 500g puff pastry
- 2 tbsp plain flour
- 1 egg, for egg wash
- Dijon mustard, to serve
- Olive oil

STEPS

1. Preheat oven to 180°C. Brown diced chicken in olive oil, then set aside.
2. Fry bacon until crispy. Add sliced leeks and onion, cook until soft.
3. Stir the chicken and chopped tarragon into the pan, then stir in the flour.
4. Add milk gradually, stirring until thick. Season generously with pepper.
5. Top the filling with puff pastry, brush with egg wash and bake 30 minutes until golden.
6. Slice and serve with a dollop of Dijon mustard.
